

Article by Thomas J. Carolan, JR
"Palazzo Corpi: A National Treasure"

U.S. Mission staff (1896)

U.S. Mission building in Beyoğlu before moving to Palazzo Corpi.

An old photo of Palazzo Corpi (sometime after 1910, when chancery was added).

Ambassador Elkus standing on the front steps of Palazzo Corpi.

(1913-1916)

In 1916, for the occasion of Ambassador Elkus' presentation of credentials to the Sultan, carriages and lackeys were sent by the Porte to convey him to the Palace.

Crowd gathered to watch the proceedings in front of the Palazzo before Ambassador Elkus' presentation of credentials to the Sultan in 1916.

U.S. Mission staff with Ambassador Morgenthau. In the rear, left of center, is Henry Morgenthau Jr., who was serving as his father's secretary. (1914)

Ambassador Elkus and children on chancery terrace with Pera Palas Hotel in background. One of the little girls in the photo, Catherine Elkus White, would later join the Foreign Service and become an ambassador. (1913-1916)

Ambassador
Abram I. Elkus
(1916-1917)

Admiral
Mark L. Bristol,
U.S. High Commissioner to Turkey
(1918-1927)

Admiral Bristol at his desk.

Mrs.
Bristol

Admiral Bristol and his guests
on the chancery terrace.

An old photo of the Consulate building from the 1930s...

An early photo of
Allen
Dulles.

Ambassador Grew and family in 1930s.

General Douglas Mac Arthur at Karakoy Harbor in 1931.
Ambassador Grew's DCMG. Howland Shaw
is in the far left.

The Consulate
pocket garden in 1940s.

The Golden Horn view from the Consulate. (n.d.)

Flag day in Istanbul.
Leaving Yesilkoy
Airport for a stroll
following arrival of Pan
Am Clipper which made
first circuit of the globe
are Consul General C.E.
Macy, Roy Howard,
President of Scripps-
Howard Newspapers, &
Oveta Culp Hobby,
Houston Post vp.

(c. 1947-1948)

Feriköy Protestant Cemetery

Tombs of Americans

Ambassador Raymond Hare at the 100th anniversary of the Robert College. (1963)

U.S. Navy in Bosphorus. (1918)

U.S. Navy in Bosphorus. (1989)
(Photograph taken by Consul General T. J. Carolan)

Pride of Baltimore II
visits
Istanbul.
(1990)

Hiawatha...

(Photograph taken by Consul General T. J. Carolan)

Bush and Ozal Presidential families
at Atatürk Airport in Istanbul. (1991)

President Clinton shaking hands with President Demirel at OECD Meeting in
Istanbul. (1999)

The new consulate site in İstinye. (January 2001)

The new consulate site in İstinye.

A work-in-progress.

Please offer your contributions of information and photographs.

Prepared by the
THE PUBLIC AFFAIRS SECTION

of
THE U.S. CONSULATE GENERAL ISTANBUL